PINCHBOTTOM TWIRLS TASSELS FOR TOTS (or not)

Children banned from burlesque show designed especially for children

Fri Aug 17 & Sat Aug 18 @ 10pm: BURLESQUE FOR KIDS (not for kids)

at Collective:Unconscious, 279 Church Street, TriBeCa

Admission: $15 | Beer & Wine Bar | Tickets: www.pinchbottom.com/tickets/ or 212-352-3101

Over the past 16 months, Pinchbottom has produced a wide range of themed burlesque shows, each designed to appeal to a different segment of the population – men, women, eaters, drinkers, mystery lovers, democrats, geeks, and everything in between. But one demographic has been consistently and conspicuously absent from Pinchbottom’s shows, and that is: little children.

On August 17 & 18, 2007, that oversight will be rectified, when Pinchbottom proudly presents BURLESQUE FOR KIDS (not for kids)! Finally, a burlesque show for the whole family! (Except the kids.) Yes, everybody from the young to the young at heart (actual young will not be admitted) will enjoy this brightly-colored show designed especially for children! (Not suitable for children.) With puppets! Animation! Costumed characters! And tributes to some of the greatest children's shows of all time! (18+ only. ID required.)

Producer and star Nasty Canasta explained how the idea came about: “Swinburne called a child’s laughter ‘sweeter far than all things heard,’ and never is that more true than when the little cuties next door start playing in the back yard just a few hours after I’ve gone to bed. So we wanted to give something back to those – and indeed all – children, in the only way we know.”

“Despite what everyone else says, kids are the future,” said Jonny Porkpie, “and Pinchbottom cannot in good conscience go into that future without having done a show just for the children.” Tom Keenan, producer for C:U, clarified: “Under no circumstances will children be allowed to attend the show.”

Added Nasty, “I can’t wait to see the smiles on their little faces.”
